RULING ON ENTITLEMENT AND DECISION AWARDING DAMAGES¹

On January 8, 2021, Stephanie Stanton filed a petition for compensation under the National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program, 42 U.S.C. §300aa-10, *et seq.*² (the “Vaccine Act”). Petitioner alleged that she suffered a Table injury – shoulder injury related to vaccine administration (“SIRVA”), as the result of an influenza (“flu”) vaccination received on October 15, 2018. Petition at 1. The case was assigned to the Special Processing Unit of the Office of Special Masters. Because entitlement was contested, the parties were ordered to file briefs addressing whether Petitioner has established a Table

If, upon review, I agree that the identified material fits within this definition, I will redact such material from public access.

case, and setting forth their respective arguments on damages should I find entitlement in favor of Petitioner. The parties were subsequently notified that I would resolve this dispute via an expedited “Motions Day” hearing, which ultimately took place on March 28, 2024.

Petitioner argues she has established a Table claim for SIRVA pursuant to 42 C.F.R. §§ 100.3(a)(XIV)(B), 100.3(c)(10) and seeks an award of $110,000.00 in compensation for Petitioner’s actual pain and suffering. ECF No. 35. Respondent disputes that the Table elements have been met, arguing that Petitioner has failed to establish that she suffered the onset of pain within 48 hours of vaccination pursuant C.F.R. §§ 100.3(a)(XIV)(B), 100.3(c)(10)(ii). ECF No. 42. Otherwise, if I find that Petitioner has established a Table case, Respondent recommends an award of $60,000.00. Id.

After listening to the arguments of both sides, I issued an oral ruling on entitlement and damages constituting my findings of fact and conclusions of law, pursuant to Section 12(d)(3)(A). An official recording of the proceeding was taken by a court reporter, although a transcript has not yet been filed in this matter. I hereby fully adopt and incorporate that oral ruling as officially recorded. In another recent decision I discussed at length the legal standards to be considered in determining entitlement and damages and prior SIRVA compensation within SPU. I incorporate herein my prior discussion in Sections V - VII of Crawford v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 19-0544V, 2024 WL 1045147, at *12-22 (Fed. Cl. Feb. 5, 2024) to the instant Ruling and Decision. Additionally, the official recording of my oral ruling includes my discussion of various comparable cases as well as specific facts relating to Petitioner’s medical history and experience that further informed my resolution of this matter.

Based on my consideration of the complete record as a whole and for the reasons discussed in my oral ruling, pursuant to Section 12(d)(3)(A) I find that Petitioner has established establish that she suffered the onset of pain within 48 hours of her vaccination, and that all other SIRVA Table requirements pursuant to 42 C.F.R. §§ 100.3(a)(XIV)(B), 100.3(c)(10) were satisfied. Additionally, Petitioner has established the additional requirements of Section 11(c), i.e., receipt of a covered vaccine, residual effects of injury lasting six months, etc. See generally § 11(c)(1)(A)(B)(D)(E). I therefore find that Petitioner is entitled to compensation in this case, and that $110,000.00 represents a fair and appropriate amount of damages for Petitioner’s actual pain and suffering.³

Accordingly, I award Petitioner a lump sum payment of $110,000.00 in the form of a check payable to Petitioner. This amount represents compensation for all damages that would be available under Section 15(a).

The Clerk of Court is directed to enter judgment in accordance with this Decision.⁴

IT IS SO ORDERED.
